Catch the Fashion Swing with School in Michigan

If you're looking for an energized, diverse place to begin your degree program in fashion design, Michigan might be the place for you. Detroit, Ann Arbor and Kalamazoo are making their names in the worlds of design, apparel, marketing and textiles with signature events.

Detroit Fashion Week event is part of the annual World Fashion Week extravaganza. The event includes local and national artists and designers. The Michigan International Women's Show hosts a Firefighter Fashion Show that will raise money for the University of Michigan Burn Center. The MODA fashion show called "Fusion" raises money for the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation.

Michigan's fashion environment combines a wide variety of styles and sensibilities, where novices work with experienced designers. Come explore the career training opportunities waiting here for you.

Think Detroit's just about cars? Think again.
